

Pregnancy travel restrictions

Latest flying dates for pregnant passengers travelling to or from of Northern Ireland

Airline	What's the latest you can fly while pregnant?	Do you need 'fit to fly' proof?	For what period do you need it?	When does your documentation need to have been signed?
Aer Lingus	Week 35 (Flights within Europe)	Yes	Week 28-35 for single pregnancy	Not specified
	Week 33 (Transatlantic flights)		Week 28-33 for multiple pregnancy
British Airways	Week 36 for single pregnancy	Yes	Week 28-36 for single pregnancy	Within 7-10 days prior to travel
	Week 32 for multiple pregnancy		Week 28-32 for multiple pregnancy
EasyJet	Week 35 for single pregnancy.	No
	Week 32 for multiple pregnancy
Flybe	Week 33	Yes	Week 28-33	Not specified
Flybe operated by Eastern Airways	Week 35 for single pregnancy	Yes	Week 28-35 for single pregnancy	No specific deadline
	Week 32 for multiple pregnancy		Week 28-32 for multiple pregnancy

Pregnancy travel restrictions

Icelandair operated by Air Iceland Connect	No limitation	Yes	Week 36-40	72 hours prior to commencement of travel if in last month of pregnancy
Jet2.com	Week 34	Yes	Week 28-34	Within 7 days of outbound date and 16 days on inbound date of travel
KLM operated by KLM Cityhopper	Recommended not to fly over week 36	Yes , if you have had complications		No specific deadline
Norwegian Air Shuttle operated by Norwegian Air International	Not specified	Yes	Late stage of pregnancy	Not specified
Ryanair	Week 36 for single pregnancy Week 32 for multiple pregnancy	Yes	Week 28-36 for single pregnancy Week 28-32 for multiple pregnancy	Within 2 weeks of the departure date
Wizz Air	Week 34 for single pregnancy Week 32 for multiple pregnancy	Yes	Week 28 to 34 for single pregnancy Week 28 to 32 for multiple pregnancy	Within 6 days of flight departure date

The Consumer Council advise that you check with your airline before travel.

Information collated on 15 November 2017.