

Charades

What you need

Scissors

4 or more players

How to play

1. Print out the consumer rights activity sheets and ask a parent or guardian to help you cut out the different cards. Use the list of cards to play a game of charades.
2. Divide into teams and give each team an equal number of cards.
3. Set a time limit for each game you play.
4. Taking it in turns, one player from each team takes a card from their pack. Without speaking they have to act out the word for their team mates to guess.
5. The team that guesses the most answers is declared the winner.
